The people of Eritrea have sought the right to self-determination since the former Italian colony was annexed by Ethiopia in 1962. Despite 24 years of war, and a famine which now threatens two-thirds of the population, impressive developments have been made in the majority of Eritrea, which is administered by the Eritrean People's Liberation Front. In these areas the Eritrea Relief Association (ERA) organises emergency relief, agricultural development, health and education programmes. Land ownership and women's rights have been transformed in what was until recently a feudal society.

War on Want is working with ERA, supporting health, farming, agricultural, water and transport programmes. ●
