

Photographer: Santu Mofokeng

This land is our land

a photographic tale of the rural land rights struggle

This Land Is Our Land tells a photographic story of South Africa's rural people, their ties to the land and their struggle for land rights. The exhibition contains work by well-known local photographers Paul Weinberg, Cedric Nunn, Santu Mofokeng and Paul Grendon.

It is being jointly hosted by AFRA and the Tatham Art Gallery and will be opened on July 21 by the new Minister of Land Affairs, Mr Derek Hanekom.

The exhibition runs for two weeks, from July 21 to August 7, at the Tatham Art
AFRA News June/July 1994

Gallery in Commercial Road, Pietermaritzburg. The gallery is open Tuesdays to Sundays from 10h00 to 18h00.

An educational programme will support the exhibition and will comprise talks on land issues, a tour of the exhibition and a photographic workshop.

Educational Programme

- Friday, July 22 at 13h10
Guided tour of the exhibition by Cedric Nunn
- Thursday, July 28 at 13h10
The land question and land reform - a talk by Richard Clacey, from the Association For Rural Advancement.

- Wednesday, August 4 at 13h10
Rural local government - a talk by Siphos Sibanda, from the Association For Rural Advancement.
- Saturday and Sunday, August 6 and from 10h00 to 17h00 on both days
A black and white photographic workshop to be run by Paul Weinberg.

☞ see pages 14 and 15 for examples of photographs from the exhibition

Untitled

Photographer:
Cedric Nunn

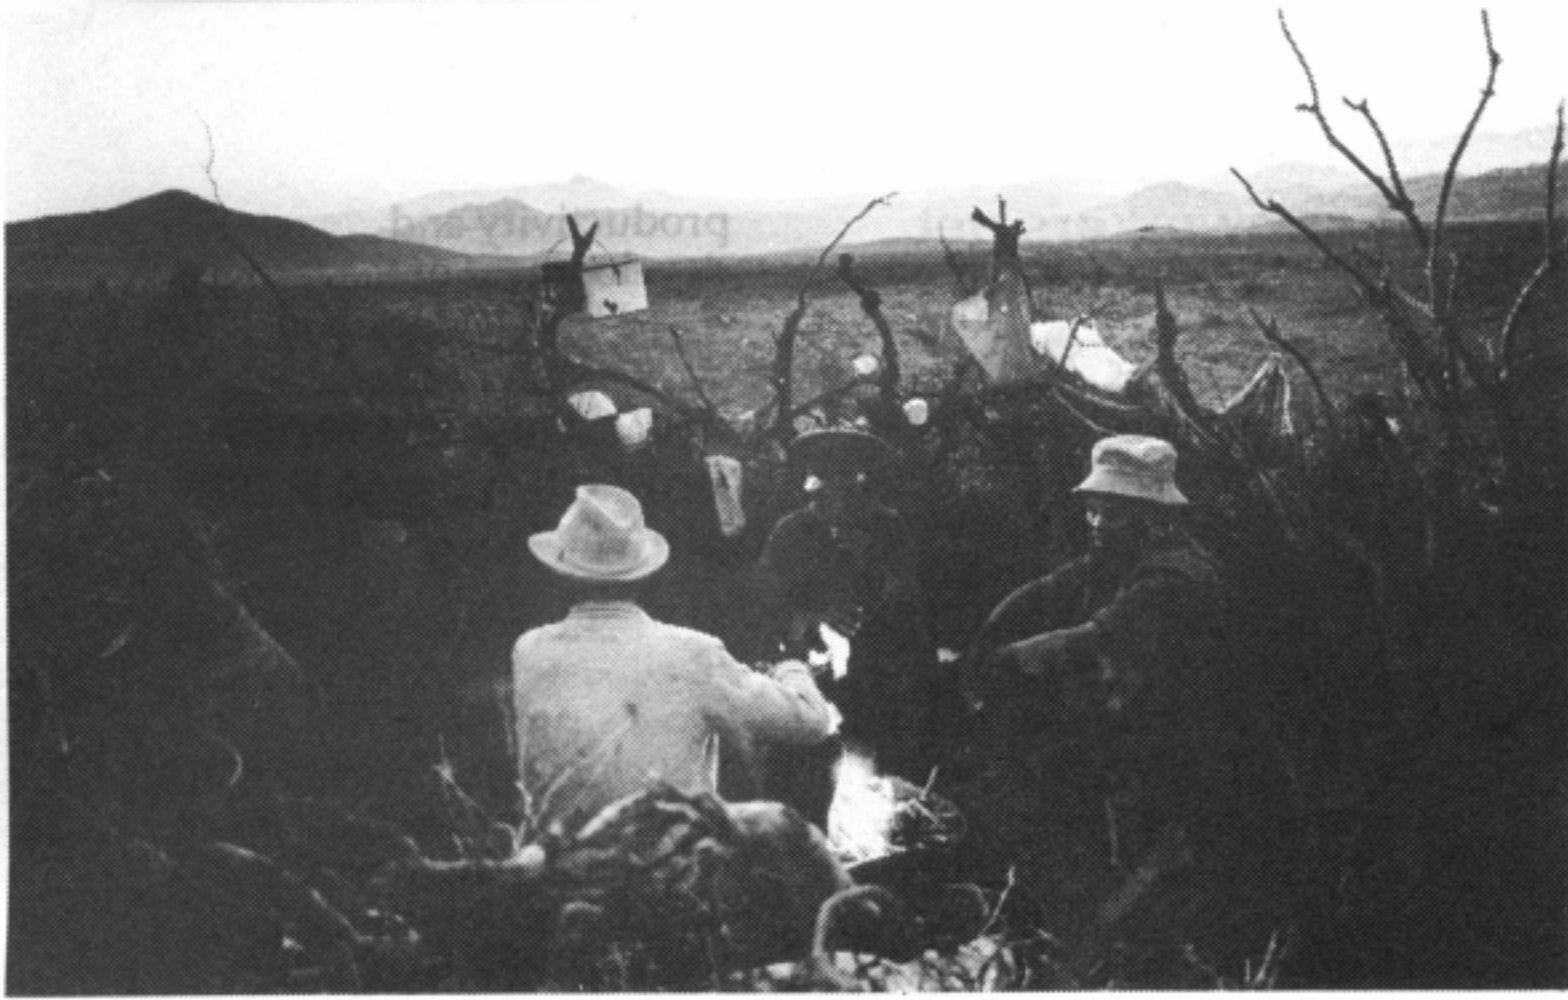

Untitled

Photographer:
Cedric Nunn

Return to Mier in the Northern Cape

Photographer:
Paul Wienberg

Richtersveld, Namaqualand

Photographer:
Paul Grendon

Mogopa, 1984

Photographer:
Paul Weinberg

Untitled

Photographer: Cedric Nunn
