

education, first aid, treatment of certain ailments, referral procedures, immunisation and oral rehydration promotion, and counselling skills.

An awareness programme regarding family relations is to deal with the effects of family disorganisation.

HEALTH CARE FOR ALL

NAMDA 1985 CONFERENCE PAPERS

A book of stimulating papers presented at the 1985 NAMDA Conference - "Health Care for All" - is now available.

The contents of this exciting publication include:

- *Jerry Coovadia - Overcoming obstacles to health in South Africa;
- *Paul Davis - Medical aspects of detention;
- *Detainee Counselling Services - Psychological Aspects of Detention;
- *Eric Buch - Primary health care in the South African homelands: primary or second class?;
- *Cedric de Beer - Explaining the present - why health services do not meet the health needs of the population;
- *NAMDA Constitution Group - The new constitution and health;
- *Hannes Botha, Debbie Bradshaw, Rene Gonin - Who dies from what? A study of the distribution of health needs and services in South Africa;
- *Jay Reddy - Dental manpower training in South Africa;
- *Jeremy Keenan - Can working people afford health care? Income, unemployment and the cost of living;
- *John Frankish, Merrick Zwarenstein, Rodney Ehrlich - Raising the price of provincial health care: unwise and unfair;
- *Mamphela Ramphela - The role of the doctor in South Africa today: a personal view;
- *Jonathan House - mobilising professionals for social change.

This publication is approximately 160 pages long and is a must for all people interested in health in South Africa.

Order your copy now by sending R10.00 to:

NAMDA 1985 Conference Publication
c/o NAMDA
P.O. Box 16108
Doornfontein
2028